LODGES OF RESEARCH.

The foundation of a Masonic Lodge is somewhat of an undertaking, and is an enterprise not lightly to be embarked upon. Nevertheless, the Dominion is not ill-served with Lodges, and most Brethren are able to find a Lodge to attend, within the length of their cable-tow. In all these Lodges the important work of Making, Passing and Raising Masons goes on from month to month, and the Masonic life is exemplified as Brethren are taught to practise outside the Lodge those virtues they are 'taught within it.

For the studious Freemason there is less opportunity. If he lives in one of the main centres of population it is probable that he will be able to attend a Lodge of Research; but if he does not, he must rely upon receiving the very excellent Transactions which some of those Lodges publish, and which are usually made available to those who do not live nearby on terms of -corresponding membership, or in some similar way.

The Brother who does not have the opportunity of attending a Lodge of Research is very much at a disadvantage. Certainly, there are ways in which he can make his daily advancement. He can subscribe to this journal, "The Craftsman," which in addition to its original contributions, always carries a number of instructional articles from outside New Zealand. Failing that, he can persuade his Lodge Secretary to make the Lodge copy available to him—it should not need any persuasion. Or he can seek out the Brother who has the key of the Lodge library, and therein he may find a dusty Mackey or Gould, or even some of the interesting though perhaps imaginative works of Dr. Oliver. If he is energetic he may persuade the Lodge to buy a set of British Masonic Miscellany, or a copy of the new B. E. Jones Encyclopaedia, or, failing that, may buy them for himself. But he will still lack something which reading in one's own armchair cannot supply. He will miss discussion, the comparing of notes, the rubbing of mind against mind, which make the labours of a Lodge of Research fascinating as well as instructive.

Only those who have addressed such a Lodge, or taken part in the discussions which follow the delivery of the readers, know just what satisfaction there can be in having one's ideas weighed and tested by other and more scholarly brethren. Of course, some opportunity exists after an address by the Grand Lecturer; but many Lodges never invoke his services, being more concerned with making members than with the instruction of Masons already made, and there are plenty of Brethren who have never heard -a lecture nor bombarded the speaker with questions afterwards. Their questions remain in their minds, unanswered.

It is not a difficult matter to comply with the formalities required under Rule 170 of the Book of Constitution for the erection of a Lodge of Research. A good many sizeable towns in New Zealand which could enrich their Masonic life and make their Masonic experience much fuller and more pleasant by formal debate and discussion have not yet taken the step of making application. That such Lodges are needed and appreciated is evident from the fact that they grow in number, they grow in membership, and one never hears of one of them becoming moribund or going out of existence. On the contrary, they go on from strength to strength, hearing lectures, arranging discussions, holding question nights, publishing transactions and building up, in some cases, notable libraries. Such Lodges really do make an approach toward a daily advancement in Masonic knowledge, and most rewarding do their members find it.

It only needs one enthusiast to start the ball rolling; it only requires seven installed Masters to sign the petition. If every one of those New Zealand centres which support half a dozen Lodges were to take the step of establishing a Lodge of Research, the Craft would provide a fuller, more rewarding, better-informed and more real experience for the majority of Freemasons than it does today. Idle and profitless speculation about the number of meanings which can be assigned to the various symbols used in Masonry might give place to a less superficial approach to what the Craft means and implies. Quantitative enrolment of new members might give place to something nearer qualitative assessment of the fitness of aspirants for membership of our Institution. The Master Mason would find more and fuller opportunities for development in the Science, and thus in his community life, than he does at present; and, best of all a powerful means would be at hand for the Brethren to become fully aware of the dignity and high importance of Masonry, its most interesting and illuminating history, the benevolent work it does throughout the world, and its remarkable influence for good in the communities in which it flourishes.

THE REAL MASON.

(By Rabbi H. Geffen, 32°, F.P.S.)

A real Freemason is one who seeks for higher objects than that of gratifying his desires with an idle pastime; he endeavours to perform his duty to God with reverence and humility, to assist his friends and neighbours in the hour of misfortune, not only with his purse, but by kindly advice and sympathy, and discharges his duties to his family by using every endeavour to elevate himself in society and shedding a hallowed zone around his home and all with whom he comes in contact. The true Freemason would scorn to do a mean or dishonourable act, whatever the temptation; whilst he would always be found ready to forgive and assist an erring brother and encourage him to become a good and useful member of society. But he does it without ostentation; and desires to prove to the outer world that he can be judged by his acts and conduct, feeling assured that there is no greater reward than a self-approving conscience.

The true-real Mason must be an affectionate husband, a considerate father, and a good son, which are some of the demands for Masonic qualification.

The Mason who never truly knows what Masonry is, or, knowing it, has not the courage or perseverance to follow it up, is not a Mason; and we made a mistake by admitting him.

No man should enter into Freemasonry with the view of deriving either directly or indirectly any advantage for himself.

Freemasonry can truly be said to break down the barriers which differences of race and creed have raised among men, and to have established a sincere bond of friendship amongst those who might otherwise have remained strangers to each other. The real Mason must translate the lectures and ceremonies which breathe the purest virtues of piety and morality into his actual everyday life; and the practice of those virtues dignifies and elevates the Mason to the grades of perfection and completeness. The true Mason must refrain from levity in Masonry, for Masonry is more than a pastime. Masonic ceremonies and rites are very important and significant.

The genuine Mason must refrain from prejudices and enmity, and esteem the religious beliefs and convictions of his brother-Mason, although they differ from his own. He must also realise that one of the foundations of the Order is charity. which he should always endeavour to practise.

THE HUTT VALLEY CONCLAVE, No. 106.

On 28th April, at the Masonic Hall, Lower Hutt, the Consecration and Dedication of the Hutt Valley Conclave, No. 106, was conducted by Rt. Wor. Bro. George Russell, District Grand Supreme Ruler, assisted by R.W. Brethren K. L. Freeman, E. A. Ballinger, F. H. Hall, F. Bustin, A. C. Langford, and others. The ceremony of Consecration was a great success, after which R.W. Bro. E. A. Ballinger performed the installation of Wor. Bro. Alfred Burgess as the First Supreme Ruler of the new Conclave. This addition to the Order, which has been talked of for several years, will be a great help to the brethren of the Hutt District.

George Russell, District Grand Supreme Ruler, P.S.R., has had the honour—Past Grand Counsellor—conferred upon him by the Most Ill. Grand Supreme Ruler of the Order, the Right Honourable the Earl of Courtown, O.B.E., etc. This is the highest office that can be conferred upon any member of the Order.

A Petition has been sent to England for a Charter for a new Conclave of the Order in Napier to be called "Victoria."

DEVON CONCLAVE, No. 200.

A red-letter day in the history of Masonry took place at New Plymouth on 20th February, when the Consecration of the Devon Conclave, No. 200, was held at the Robe Street Masonic Hall by V.Ill. Knight George Russell, C.C.G., Intendant General, New Zealand Division, assisted by Em. Sir Knight L. C. Gibbins. Em. Kt. W. Barke, M.P. Sov. New Zealand Coriclave, Knights G. Davies, Cawthorn, and others, with Sir Knight E. McK. Lyon as Director of Ceremonies. After the Dedication the Installation of Sir Knight W. N. C. Briesman as the First M.P. Sov. and Sir Knight George Ward as Em. Knight Eusebius was carried out. The other office's of the Conclave were invested by Em. Sir Knight W. N. C. Briesman, the Most Puissant Sovereign, after which seven candidates were inducted into the Order. Great credit must be given to the M.P.Sov. and the newly-invested officers for the splendid performance of the ritual. The visitors came from Auckland, Christchurch. Invercargill, Dunedin and Gisborne, which gave the new Conclave a splendid send off. The furnishings and fittings were provided by the seven Charter members who had made most of the furniture, etc.

V. Ill. Kt. George Russell, P.M.P.S., Intendant-General of the New Zealand Division, was honoured by the Most Ill. Grand Sovereign of the Order with the great honour of Knight Grand Cross of Constantine for the great work he had performed in the Dominion. This is the first time that this great honour has been conferred on any member outside of England.

KIRKPATRICK MASONIC INSTITUTE.

BOARD OF GOVERNORS' REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31st DECEMBER, 1950.

I have pleasure in reporting on the affairs of the Board and the progress of the Institute during the past year.

Finance: For some years past it has been evident that the Institute cannot be maintained within the limits of the income accruing from the original endowment under the will of the late W. Bro. S. Kirkpatrick and from various bequests received subsequently. The result has been that since 1944 our annual accounts have shown an increasing deficit. It is all the more pleasing therefore, to be able to report a small surplus of £94 12s- Id. for the year under review. This surplus arises entirely from the generosity of Grand Lodges, Lodges, and Brethren, who donated to us during the year £768 16s. 8d. for our general funds and £75 for our building fund. In an endeavour to place our finances permanently on a better basis, we suggested to all Constitutions in New Zealand that an annual levy of 6d. per member be made for the benefit of our Institute. Some Provincial Grand Lodges, however, have no power to make such a levy, so the scheme could not be put into effect; but without exception our appeal was either warmly recommended to Lodges or the Grand Lodge made a donation of an equivalent amount. The result was that the total received was roughly equal to 6d. per head of our total Masonic population in New Zealand. It is far from satisfactory to have to make annual appeals and I sincerely trust that Lodges of all Constitutions will continue to contribute on the basis of 6d. per member and which appears to be acceptable to them.

Dealing with the accounts in more detail, it will be seen that our total expenditure under all headings covering staff salaries, food, clothing, and property expenses, was £1940 14s. 2d., or approximately £121 for each girl. Such a sum is modest indeed for these days, but at the same time the first consideration has been the welfare of the girls. They are encouraged to take full part in all school activities and to develop their individual aptitudes.

Attendance: During the year we have had four admissions and four departures since the last report. We have now 16 girls .at the Institute (5 Primary, 2 Intermediate, 9 Secondary) and another application pending.

It is always pleasing to find our old girls making careers for themselves. At present one is doing Karitane training with the aid of a grant from the Royal Arch Scholarship Fund, one is studying for a degree in Home Science at Otago University and is being helped by the Grand Lodge of N.Z. and the Royal Arch Scholarship Fund, while another is at the Teachers Training College in Christchurch. A very gratifying instance of the appreciation of our Old Girls was the receipt during the year of a donation of £5 5s. from one who is now in Canada. This went to our Matron's fund for the entertainment of the children.

Buildings and Grounds: There was no heavy expense during the year, but very soon we must paint the buildings, which cannot be done for less than £250. The main driveway is also cracking and will have to be re-surfaced —another expensive job.

Annual, Picnic: This year the picnic was held at Pelorus Bridge and transport was provided by brethren from the Nelson city Lodges, who were accompanied by their wives. It was a most enjoyable function. For some time I have been concerned that members of the Craft in Nelson have so little contact with the Institute- Very few of them, apart from the Masters and Secretaries, have ever visited it or taken any interest in the welfare or entertainment of the girls. To remedy this state of affairs to some small extent. I suggest that we ask the city Lodges to provide one picnic each year—transport, food, and all arrangements. They could combine to do it, or take turns, in which case a Lodge would only be called on once in four years. I invite members of the Board to consider this suggestion.

Thanks: Our Matron, Mrs. Giddens, and her assistant, Mrs. Dawson, continue to give splendid service so that both the Institute and the girls may be a credit to the Craft and fulfil the ideals of our Founder. We again express our very sincere thanks to them. To all others also who have helped during the year we are grateful.

R. W. MARTIN, Chairman.

SUPREME GRAND R.A. CHAPTER OF N.Z.

—•—<>—•— VISIT OF FIRST GRAND PRINCIPAL, M.E. COMP. J. CHRISTOFFEL TO MARLBOROUGH-NELSON DIST.

The most notable event of the past month was the first visit to this Territory of the First Grand Principal of Royal Arch Masonry, M.E. Companion J. Christoffel, of New Plymouth. His visit to Blenheim was his first in the course of a South Island tour and also the first outside his own territory since his elevation to office. A large attendance welcomed him to Marlborough Chapter, No. 14, where he was received by R.E. Comp. A. W. Wanden, Grand Supt. of Marlborough and Nelson, and by V.E. Comp. F. Mogridge, Z. The business of the evening was to acknowledge six brethren, a ceremony which was very well presented.

M.E. Comp. Christoffel created a deep impression by his dignity and sincerity, but above all by his friendliness and essentially practical attitude towards his duties as titular head of Royal Arch Masonry. Responding to a toast in the refectory, he delivered a solid, sound, down-to-earth talk on the significance of the teaching of Capitular Freemasonry; and in an easy fashion cleared away a lot of the rubble of misunderstanding overlying many a Companion's comprehension of the Order.

From Blenheim the Most Excellent went on to Nelson, where he was greeted at Victory Chapter's meeting by another large representation of the Companions of city and district. R.E. Comp. Wanden again attended to extend the courtesies, and the distinguished visitor gave a further instructive address. He left for the West Coast in continuation of a tour that will materially stimulate interest in Royal Arch Masonry.

FREE WILL AND ACCORD.

There is one peculiar feature in the Masonic institution that should commend it to the discerning mind—Masonic membership should be sought by the aspirant, and never should be solicited or offered by any member, under any circumstances. In some organisations, honoured institutions in themselves, proselytising is the proper thing. But not so with us; quite the contrary. Whoever seeks admission to our ranks must first be prepared within himself. Not only must he become endowed with the necessary moral qualifications, but he must come also entirely uninfluenced by friends and unbiased by unworthy motives. For this is a landmark to our Order. And nothing is more irritating to a good Mason than to see this landmark violated by a well-meaning but misguided Brother. For— make no mistake about it— it has been, and still is, often violated. Without a doubt, some Brothers thoroughly enjoying: their own membership, and in a mistaken zeal to increase membership of the Institution, persuade a friend to come and partake and share the pleasures they themselves enjoy. Any Mason who so misunderstands the true policy of our Institution should be instructed by older and more experienced Brethren that it is absolutely against all of our laws and principles to ask any man to become a Mason, or to exercise any kind of influence over the minds of others— except by Masonic example and precept—by the observance of which they may be Induced to ask admission into our ranks. We must not seek members; we are to be sought. And even though this were not Masonic law, policy alone would dictate adherence to the voluntary usage. We need have no worries about suffering from lack of membership. Our danger lies in the too ready acceptance of undesirable material for membership. When too little attention is paid to the proper selection of candidates, the Institution will suffer as a result, for the tree is known by its fruit.

There can therefore be no excuse for the practice of persuading candidates, and every hope of safety in avoiding such a practice. We must not seek aspirants! Rather, we must be sought by them.—"The Masonic World."

THE STORY OF A STONE.

An eminent sculptor was once asked: "How do you carve such beautiful statues?" He replied: "It is the simplest thing in the world. I take a hammer and chisel and from a selected mould stone. I knock off all the stone I do not want, and there is the statue; it was there all the time."

This statement is applicable to all mankind, but to us as symbolic Masons it is pregnant with meaning, for, was not each one, at the commencement of his Masonic career, placed in the north-east corner as a mould stone, in the hope that the stone so placed would, in the fullness of time, be wrought into a thing of beauty acceptable to the builder? What does the poet say of the stone?

Isn't it strange that Princes and Kings
And clowns that caper in sawdust rings,
And common folks like you and me
Are builders for eternity?
Each is given a kit of tools.
A shapeless mass and a book of rules;
And each must make, ere life is flown,
A stumbling block or a stepping stone.

These are very true words. The kit of tools are those talent's with which God has blessed us to enable us to fulfil our mission in life. We are told in the V.S.L. that one received five talents, another two talents, and yet another only one talent, so that our duty is for each to discharge his allotted task to the best of his ability, and help those who have not been so well blessed as himself.' Thus each will be assisting in carrying out the "Grand Design" of being happy and communicating happiness and thereby of being "more extensively serviceable to his fellow creatures."

The shapeless mass is a man's character, and each one of us is his own Architect. Builder, and Material, and like our predecessors, the Operative Masons, we each must show our craftsmanship in working out a "perfect ashlar" fit to be tried by the square of his own conscience.

The book of rules is the V.S.L. "That great light which will guide us to all Truth; direct our steps in the paths of happiness, and thus point out the whole duty of man."

Let us pause for a moment and earnestly ask ourselves, which are we making—stumbling blocks or stepping stones? If a man's life is such that he cannot "join in the Grand Design of being happy and communicating happiness" to others, then he is a stumbling block, not only to himself, but to all those with whom he is associated. If that man is a Freemason he should study the Ritual and discover the inner meaning, so that he can learn to perfect his stone.

Let us trace whence comes this mould stone. An ancient charge provides that a mould stone shall be given to a visiting Operative Mason to enable him to demonstrate his craftsmanship. The stones were selected, individual stones, from the quarries to suit the requirements of the material building. As speculative Freemasons, we obtain our mould stones from the quarries of life. Thus when we receive an application for admission to our Lodge, it is our duty to carefully scrutinise all of the credentials of the applicant from every angle, so that only approved material is admitted to the Craft.

Freemasonry can and does improve good material, but it cannot make bad material good. As with the operative Mason, poor material would have endangered the material structure. So with us as Speculative Freemasons faulty material will endanger the Spiritual Temple we are endeavouring to build.

Having found, by the strictest enquiry, that the applicant, the mould stone, is suitable, we have, by those enquiries, knocked off some of the irregularities which surround him, and after his initiation he is represented as the "rough ashlar"—that is, the stone is no longer a mould stone, but is approximately a cube which still requires a considerable amount of dressing before the "perfect ashlar" which is within it can be brought to light; and the candidate is given the appropriate working tools to enable him to "knock off rough knobs and excrescences" of his character.

Later on he finds that, although the common gavel and chisel are suitable for reducing the roughness, they are not capable of obtaining perfection. As a Craftsman he receives another set of working tools, one of which is essential to perfection, namely, the square, and here he learns that it is only by continual grinding and many applications of the square, that the stone can be brought to a true die or cube.

In his capacity as a Craftsman, and as a true man of the world, he is continually coming in contact with his fellows, and he learns to control his passions and to recognise the rights of others, with the result that the stone he is working upon, namely, his character, is gradually taking shape as a "perfect ashlar."

' Later he is called upon to hand his stone over to the Builder, who cuts a bevelled hole in the top, so that the stone can be attached to a lewis and be hoisted up ready to be placed on the base assigned to it by the Builder. Thus he is reminded that the rope, the Lewis, and the crane represent the all-sustaining power of God, and that if he has discharged his duty faithfully and in accordance with the precepts laid down in the V.S.L., he may rest assured that when his final summons comes he will find that the Great Builder will have prepared a place for him in that "Great Spiritual Temple not made with hands eternal in the Heavens."

Finally, let us consider this perfect stone from a geometrical point of view. Looking at the perfect ashlar, as it stands in the Lodge we notice that it has six equal and exactly similar sides, and that no matter how it is placed down, on the level, it must stand on one of its faces and present a similar face to the observer, from any point of view. It is the only geometrical body which requires no support from its fellows, but when placed in line with similar cubes demands its own space, and lines up with the others on top, bottom and sides.

Symbolically, that stone represents a M.M. How few can measure up to such perfection. Let us not be discouraged, but rather let us do away with selfish propensities and aims and stand shoulder to shoulder in the true advance of our great Craft.

LEARN MORE FROM MASONRY.

(By V. M. Burrows, M.P.S.)

You cannot altogether determine what shall be put before your mind in the course of a day; but it is part of every person's business in life to determine what shall stay in his mind, and to decide that only that shall stay which makes his life advance definitely to something larger and finer.

Every man has a kingdom. Your kingdom is your own inner being, the kingdom of mind and soul. You can fill that kingdom with thoughts and emotions which fight. with one another and with your finer self, or with thoughts and emotions which work together for the fulfillment of your greater possibilities.

One of the first lessons taught in the First Degree of Masonry is that ydu should learn to subdue your passions and improve yourself in Masonry.

The person who wants for his inner companion a self that has poise and strength and loveliness and adventurous aspiration and spiritual potency cultivates the habit of communing with bigness and strength. He keeps under his hand some book that stimulates the mind and soul to greatness, and feeds himself upon it daily. He takes pains to put himself in the way of emotions that are liberating and greatening, and invites them to take up their abode within him. He develops strong desire for greatness of the inner man, and makes that desire for bigness of soul the passion of his life. He makes growth, and still more growth, the desire of his heart as long as he lives. He unites himself with the creative Soul of the Universe, and with that Soul he pursues an onward way.

The Mason who is thus directing his life will get a new inspiration and learn a new interpretation of symbolism each time that he attends his Lodge or witnesses the conferring of a Degree. The oldest teaching of philosophy is "Seek and ye shall find." —"The Philalethes."

REVIEW OF PROCEEDINGS OF FOREIGN GRAND LODGES.

(By Bro. R. E. Cross, Reviewer.)

CALIFORNIA — 1950.

101st Annual Communication held iii San Francisco from 9th to 13th October, 1950.

Grand Master (presiding): M.W. Bro. Ellsworth Meyer. Grand Master (elected): M.W. Bro. Arthur Paulsen. Grand Secretary: M.W. Bro. Lloyd E. Wilson, P.G.M. This Grand Lodge has discontinued the system of exchanging Grand Representatives.

605 Lodges, 196.800 members, net gain of 6257.

2638 Officers and 2286 Master Masons attended the Communication, which closed the first century of the existence of the Grand Lodge of California, and opened its second.

"Our Communication is historic," the Grand Master said, "not only because of the Anniversary we are observing, but because of the distinguished guests in attendance. Never before has a Communication witnessed the presence of 39 Grand Masters from every part of the Union and five foreign countries. Never before have we been honoured by the presence of a comparable number of Deputy Grand Masters, Grand Secretaries and Past Grand Masters from other Jurisdictions. . .

Among the messages of congratulation was one from the Grand Lodge of New Zealand. The 1950 Book of Proceedings of the Grand Lodge of California runs into 570 pages, and with the space available to the writer of Reviews it is quite impossible to make an adequate survey of even half the volume. In view of the historic occasion which the 1950 Communication of this Grand Lodge commemorates, it is felt that a reproduction of the account of "A Century of Masonry in California," by M.W. Bro. E. Meyer, Grand Master, will be of great interest to New Zealand brethren and at the same time will be acceptable to the Grand Lodge of California in lieu of a very sketchy review:—

A CENTURY OF MASONRY IN CALIFORNIA.

By Ellsworth Meyer, Grand Master of Masons in California
(As broadcast over the Columbia network on 19th April, 1950).

This day is of particular significance to the Masons of California and Hawaii. One hundred years ago, on 19th April. 1850, a group of Master Masons who had gathered in Sacramento completed their preliminary work, and, at high twelve, opened the First Communication of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons for the State of California.

It might be said that they were a bit optimistic in the selection of a name, for California was not admitted to the Union yet and did not become a State until five months later.

The California in which they lived was a very different California from that which you know. There were no railroads, no broad highways, no rapid means of communication, no bridges across rivers and swift mountain streams.

The population was concentrated, but not at the location of our modern great cities. Instead, it was to be found in narrow canyons by the American and Feather Rivers and on the banks of the Sacramento.

These California communities were known by such picturesque names as Coloma, Hangtown, Angles Camp, Grass Valley, Chilli Gulch, and Rough and Ready.

Within the year, thousands of men had come to these communities and other thousands, were on their way across the Rockies, by way of Panama, or around the Horn. Around the world had gone the cry of gold—gold in California—and the greatest migration in history was under way.

The stories of hunger, thirst, hardship, of heroism and cruelty during that migration are well known, but it is not so widely known that despite the haste of departure and the feverish desire to reach the 'goldfields, time was taken by Masons to obtain Charters and Dispensations from twelve eastern Grand Lodges for the establishment of 15 Masonic Lodges in this fabulous El Dorado.

From Connecticut to Florida, from the District of Columbia to Missouri, issued proper authorisation for the establishment of Lodges in California.

The Masons who were assembled in Sacramento one hundred years ago today belonged to Lodges which had been established in Sacramento, Benton City, Benicia, and San Francisco.

They were motivated not only by their affection for the Fraternity, but by the suffering occasioned by the epidemics which had swept through the camps and towns, the poverty of those who had come inadequately equipped, and widespread disregard for the hallmarks of civilisation.

They recognised the necessity of banding together the good men and true of different cities who had knelt at Masonic Altars, who were disciples of brotherly love and temperance in thought and deed; men who understood and practised charity.

In that first Grand Lodge session were men from Sacramento who established the first hospital in California, who nursed the victims of the several cholera epidemics, buried the dead, and expended more than $33,000 of personal funds for the relief of the needy and the afflicted.

In the fever for gold, other men might become calloused, turn from the hunger of the widow and the orphan, but to these men of Masonry our doctrine of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man was no lofty preachment, no sounding pretension—it was a way of life.

The presiding officer of the two-day convention which preceded the formation of the Grand Lodge was Charles Gilman, a San Francisco lawyer of note, who had already served one year as Grand Master in New Hampshire and six years as Grand Master in Maryland. He was the logical choice to be the first Grand Master in California, but intended to return East shortly and deferred in favour of Colonel Jonathan D. Stevenson, his law partner, whom President Polk had sent to California in command of the first New York Volunteers on the outbreak of war in Mexico.

Colonel Stevenson had brought his troops around South America in three ships in 1847, and, as with many other Easterners, he came to California and stayed.

Early California Masonry had within her ranks many other colourful men. Sam Brannan, who founded San Francisco's first newspaper, was the first to broadcast the discovery of gold, preached the first Protestant sermon in California, and was the subject of the State's first jury trial. John W. Geary, who came to California after service in the Mexican War, became the first Postmaster and the first Mayor of San Francisco, and later a Brigadier-General, and then the Governor of Kansas and the Governor of Pennsylvania, and Robert Semple, who presided over the Constitutional Convention, and, with Hastings, conditioned Californians for widespread public education.

To chronicle the names of prominent men who have sat in California Masonic Lodges during the past century would be to call the roll of most of those who have left their names as noble legacies to the State, and of those who are recognised as leaders today.

I shall mention but, a few of those whose names stand like mountain peaks high above the rest; Commodore Stoot; Kit Carson, the renowned Indian scout; Mark Twain, who gave the world "The Jumping Frog of Calaveras County"; Stephen J. Field, who served longer on the Supreme Court of the United States than any other Justice; Thomas Starr King, one of the two Californians in the Hall of Fame in Washington, and who was serving our Grand Lodge as Grand Orator at the time of his early death; Peter Lassen, named as an officer in the charter issued by the Grand Lodge of Missouri, and for whom Mount Lassen and Lassen County were named. Don Benito Wilson, who located Riverside, was Mayor of Los Angeles in 1851 and after whom Mount Wilson was named; Lester A. Pelton, who made hydro-electric power possible by inventing the Pelton water wheel; Leland Stanford, railroad president, Governor, and United States Senator, who gave Stanford University; and Luther Burbank, who unfolded so many of Nature's secrets. These are but a few of the great names in a century of Californian Masonry, and I purposely omitted the names of those still living who are a credit to Masonry, California, and these United States.

The Grand Lodge founded in that upper room at the corner of the Fifth and "J" Streets in Sacramento has, in the century of its progress, spread to the Oregon and Mexican borders and crossed the Pacific to Hawaii, where the first Masonic Lodge had been established by the Grand Orient of France and over which two, Hawaiian Kings had presided as Masters.. It has grown until its membership is the fifth largest in the United States and the seventh largest in the world. If we were to add to its members the thousands of Masons who reside in California, but maintain their membership at their former homes, the number would probably not be surpassed by any other American Jurisdiction; but Californian Masonry is not interested in mere numbers.

Unlike many organisations, it can invite no man to take its degrees. He must seek admission of his own free will. It does not sit back in smug satisfaction as it reviews its record on this Centennial Day! It is proud of its history, but not boastful. As individuals, its members are serving in every cause which is building a better State and a better society, and they will continue to serve.

The Grand Lodge of California today touches life at each level. Through its home for children at Covina it cares for orphans and half orphans from the first grade of grammar, school through graduation from high school. By means of its club houses at Berkeley and Los Angeles campuses of the University of California it is an influence during the collegiate years. Its Lodges inspire during the active adult years, and its Home for the Aged at Decoto, in Alameda County, is a haven for 300 in the late afternoon of life.

Masonry was a stabilising influence in the rough and ready days of '49. It is an anchorage in the present and for the days to come.

It has helped to build California, and it will not now lay down the plumb, the square, or the trowel. For a century in California and for the many centuries elsewhere, Masonry has united at its altars of reverence, men of good will who have striven, by every resource of their art to make tangible the power of brotherhood, the worth of virtue, and the reality of the ideal.

MISSISSIPPI-1950.

132nd Annual Communication held in Biloxi on 14th and 15th February, 1950.

Grand Master (presiding): M.W. Bro. Don S. Downie. Grand Master (elected): M.W. Bro. Hal K. Jackson. Grand Secretary: R.W. Bro. Sid. F. Curtis.

Grand Representative of N.Z.: W. Bro. Henry K. Hutlow. Grand Representative in N.Z.: M.W. Bro. W. J. Girling, P.G.M., Blenheim.

308 Lodges, 41,613 members, net gain of 1,785.

Two new Loges were constituted during the year. Referring to the state of the Craft in his Address, the Grand Master said: "I am of the sincere opinion that our Lodges should- have a programme of work that is more than the conferring of degrees. Such a programme would include the study of the philosophy, the symbolism and history of our Craft; a Social Schedule which would be dignified but interesting for the brethren and their families; an active benevolence aim; a full co-operation with those events which might be promoted by the Grand Lodge; and many others which would suggest themselves to alert officers.

"Many Lodges have reported to me that they could not afford the expense of Social and Educational programmes.

"To function properly every Lodge must be financially sound. To be free from debt is not enough. A Lodge's revenue should be adequate to meet all demands and your Relief Fund should be substantial enough so that you can render Masonic Benevolence whenever a worthy case presents itself.

"I would respectfully suggest that we do not make the mistake of making our Masonry too cheap. Quite to the contrary, it should be made commensurate with the high value that we want our members to place upon their membership."

It is pleasing to note that the very strained situation which had arisen between this Grand Lodge in particular and the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts concerning Prince Hall Masonry has been cleared and the normal amicable and fraternal relations which formerly existed between these two Jurisdictions have apparently been re-established

In this connection the Grand Master said, inter alia: "Someone has said that Masons have been called the evangelists of a new day, and right well we may be, for in this grave and important matter we have been constructive. We have used the gauge and the gavel for constructive purposes. It is on this basis that this work has been willingly done before God and Man, and the Masons of our respective Jurisdictions can rejoice in the happy outcome of the affair and pledge their undying friendship and fraternity to each other, dedicated to the great principle of our Craft and unity and brotherhood among men."

The Grand Master spoke inspiringly of the necessity to preserve the democratic way of life.

Applications for recognition and an exchange of fraternal representatives from several Grand Lodges in Europe and in South America were considered and held up without prejudice for further consideration.

The following extract from the Report of the Fraternal Correspondent is of interest:—

"In the United States—indeed, in the world—Masonry has had great gains in membership during the past year. There are at present approximately 3,432,164 Master Masons holding membership in 15,217 Lodges in the United States. This number represents a net gain of about 143,564 Masons over the membership of one year ago."

The Proceedings of Grand Lodges outside the United States of America are not reviewed. It seems a pity that brethren of this Jurisdiction are not given a picture of Masonic life and thought beyond American shores, through the medium of Reviews.

SOUTH DAKOTA-1950.

76th Annual Communication held at Custer on 13th and 14th June, 1950.

Grand Master (presiding): M.W. Bro. Harry H. Margolin. Grand Master (elected): M.W. Bro. Neil C. Dewhirst. Grand Secretary: R.W. Bro. Elwin F. Strain.

Grand Representative of N.Z.: W. Bro. V. Rayburn. Grand Representative in N.Z.: M.W. Bro. T. M. Rankin P.Pro.G.M., Invercargill.

168 Lodges, 18,462 members, net gain of 506.

An Address of Welcome was given by the Hon. Francis G. Manning, Past Grand Master, and Mayor of the City of Custer. It is reported that it was in the true western spirit of hospitality and was heartily received.

15 Past Grand Masters attended the Communication and distinguished guests from many other Jurisdictions were in attendance. Each guest was individually welcomed by the Grand Master.

The Grand Secretary reported that many donations of books for Grand Lodge Library had been received during the year, and that the library had been used more in the past year than at any time in the past ten years. He complained in his Report of overdue Returns from Lodges. Secretaries were urged to give their prompt cooperation; it was pointed out that many Jurisdictions are establishing a new regulation, creating a penalty if the Returns are not sent in promptly and by due date.

A resolution that the incoming Grand Master be asked to appoint a Committee for the purpose of investigating the advisability of organising a South Dakota Lodge of Research was duly carried.

The Board of General Activities recommended that it be authorised and directed to devise, promulgate, and put into active co-operation a plan of Masonic Education—this was agreed to.

The Grand Orator, W. Bro. Fred. J. Nichol, delivered an oration, taking the Masonic virtue of "Tolerance" as his subject. He referred to the Communist Menace from an angle diametrically opposed to that from which the subject has been referred to by most Grand Masters in the United States of America from time to time during the past two years.

He said in part: "We become so worried about the Communist Menace that we see Communists and Reds behind every desk and under every bed. But let us not permit our dislike for Communists and Russians, thorough and justified as it may be, to lead to the smearing and discrediting of fine, invaluable men who happen to disagree with our political and economic beliefs.

"Masons, because of the universality of their ideals and their tolerance of the opinions of others and their positions of leadership here and in all countries of the world are in a position to do more toward breaking down the Iron Curtain possibly than any other group of men on the face of the globe."

In his concluding remarks the Grand Master made the following observations: "The strength of a nation or a people can only be measured by the unity that exists among them. The moral laws and obligations between nations are purely the reflection of the moral law and practice of the individual."

FOUNDATION OF MASONRY.

If we examine the foundations of Masonry, we find that it rests upon the most fundamental of all truths, the first truth and the last, the sovereign and supreme Reality. Upon the threshold of its Lodges every man, whether prince or peasant, is asked to confess his faith in God the Father Almighty, the Architect and Master-BUILDER of the Universe. That is not a mere form of words, but the deepest and most solemn affirmation that human lips can make.—Joseph Fort Newton, Litt. D.

FREEMASONRY TODAY.

The members of the Craft need more and more to realise that it should be a character building institution as well as a social fraternity. It professes a high moral code which its adherents should strictly endeavour to live up to. In fact, its appeal to the higher instincts of men is, after all, its outstanding feature. It emphasises in its ceremonies individual responsibility to God, to country, to neighbour and to self.

In the present disturbed state of the world the Craft must not only continue its wonderful efforts for benevolent purposes, but as it expands it must do still more, and thus still further spread its gracious influence.

The Craft today should find its greatest satisfaction, not so much in the numerical strength of its Lodges, as in the character and standing of the individuals who constitute the membership. It must ever be aware of the need for quality in those who seek admission. It will need, therefore, to safeguard admissions and to see to it that only good men, men of strict integrity and sound morals, are admitted to the privileges of the ancient Institution.

—"The Masonic Record."

OBITUARY.

R.W. BRO. ARTHUR CHARLES ANDREWS, P.G.W., P.G.Z.

St. Augustine Royal Arch Chapter, No. 1, has suffered a severe loss through the death of M.E. Comp. A. C. Andrews, P.G.Z. Exalted in 1900, he occupied the chair of 1st Principal in 1904, and Grand Chapter called him to its highest office, as G.Z., in 1915.

Our worthy Companion represented a generation that is fast passing away, whose loyalty and devotion to Capitular Freemasonry seemed to be all-absorbing and the welfare of the Chapter their particular care.

Blessed with a long and active life, our Companion was to the very end keenly alert to everything in the Masonic Calendar and leaves to those who follow him a remarkable record of fidelity and work for them to emulate.

Our M.E. Companion was also a foundation member of Cryptic Council, No. 1, and a T.I.M. by virtue of his rank in Grand Chapter.

R.W. BRO. ROBERT ALEXANDER GILLESPIE, P.G.W., P.G.Z.

Freemasonry in general throughout New Zealand, and in the Hawkes Bay district in particular, suffered a grievous loss in the passing at Dannevirke, on the 28th April, of R.W. Bro. R. A. Gillespie, in his 85th year.

Our late R.W. Bro. was initiated in Lodge Ngamotu, No. 48, at New Plymouth, in 1895, and subsequently became Master of that Lodge, after which he took an active interest in the Craft in that portion of Taranaki. Coming to Dannevirke, he joined Rawhiti Lodge, No. 66, in 1909 and officiated as D. of C. for a number of years, both in his Lodge and at annual meetings throughout the District. He was appointed S.G.D. in 1923, elected P.G.D.C. in 1931, and appointed J.G.W. in 1939.

Our late R.W. Bro. was a gifted ritualist, blessed with a remarkably retentive memory, and his presence at any annual gathering was ever a source of comfort and satisfaction to the presiding officer, in the sure knowledge that any defection from the list of those appointed to participate would be readily and capably performed by R.W. Bro. Gillespie in their stead.

M.E. Comp. Gillespie was Exalted in Paritutu Chapter, No. 5, in 1900, joined Rawhiti, No. 30, in 1911, and was enthroned as Z. in 1912, and here again his zeal and enthusiasm were manifested. His interest in Rawhiti, No. 30, was actively sustained until advancing years and infirmity precluded his regular attendance either at Lodge or Chapter meetings. In the earlier history of Capitular Freemasonry in Hawkes Bay he inaugurated and carried out a campaign in the several Chapters regarding the Ark Mariner and Red Cross Knight degrees.

M.E. Comp. Gillespie was elected G.D.C. in 1914; was G.Supt., Hawkes Bay District, from 1917 to 1920; Grand J. in 1926; and P.G.Z. in 1933. He leaves a widow and three sons, one of whom, V.W. Bro. Ken. Gillespie, P.G.Chap., resides with his mother in Dannevirke.

Our distinguished Brother was interred with Masonic honours on 30th April.

W. BRO. G. H. W. GALE.

We record with regret the death on 6th May, 1951, of W. Bro. Gus. Herbert William Gale, a member of the Masters' and Past Masters' Lodge, No. 130. W. Bro. Gale was initiated in Lodge Riccarton, No. 276, in 1935, and after serving in the usual offices, was installed as Master in 1950. At the time of his death he was I.P.M. and Preceptor. During his year as Master W. Bro. Gale proposed and initiated into Lodge Riccarton his business partner, Bro. A. C. Winter.

By profession W. Bro. Gale was a Public Accountant and was well known in musical circles, having been secretary of the Christchurch Competitions Society for some years, until the demands of his practice caused him to resign. He was President of the Society at the time of his death.

PHILOSOPHY.

Some words come to be regarded with suspicion because their evolution in language imparts to them so many shades of meaning that a reader is very often at a loss to grasp the real meaning and significance implied by the user of them. An emotional bias against them grows up, and as a consequence, when they occur, one does not bother to comprehend what actually is intended.

As an instance of this difficulty the word philosophy is typical, for it is used in at least three different senses, and one is left to guess what is implied by it. We read that philosophy is a term which was first brought 'into general use by Socrates, who employed it to denote the science that deals with the causes and existence of things. It was concerned with the study and explanation of the universe, including man. Hence it dealt with the problems of life, the mystery of existence, the origin and destiny of man and his relationship with the world that surrounds him as well as the unseen universe upon which he loved to speculate.

Even at its inception the range of philosophy was extensive. Indeed, it covered all knowledge; but with the further advances made with the centuries, each separate department of knowledge came to have a philosophy peculiar to itself. So the word comes to mean the general principles or theory upon which the particular aspect is based. Hence we hear of the philosophy of history, language, religion, morality, implying not the facts of history, language, religion, etc., but the principles connecting the facts and their bearing upon man's development.

Ultimately a philosopher was one who studied philosophy and who naturally arrived at his own view of things, whether of knowledge in general or any aspect in particular. One's philosophy came to signify an attitude, disposition, or view of life as a whole: In this sense, every intelligent human being arrives at some kind of philosophy.

One man's philosophy in life is the calm acceptance of its vicissitudes. That of another will be a feverish haste to amass a fortune, While that of yet another might be a healthy optimism that "everything works together for good."

Although it may not have occurred to us, the philosophy of Freemasonry embraces all three aspects mentioned, and in that sense may be said to be amazingly comprehensive. The origin and destiny of man is clearly shown in the exhortation wherein we hear that our admission was an emblematical representation of the entry of all men upon their mortal existence. Later, we learn man's relation to this world and are urged to contemplate the secrets of Nature. At last we are invited to reflect upon that, mysterious veil which the eye of reason cannot penetrate. The philosophy of Freemasonry considered in the light of the first implication of the word is amply demonstrated, for it does symbolically deal with the mystery of existence, the origin and destiny of man, and with the life to come.

So far as the principles of Freemasonry and their bearing upon man's development are concerned, i.e., philosophy in the second meaning of the term, a clear picture can be seen. In the first place it is free and is founded on the purest principles of piety and virtue. Another vital principle upon which it rests is secrecy. Its freedom of entry, its secrecy, its basis of piety and virtue, and many other principles, have a most important bearing on the development of man. Hence philosophy in its second sense is clearly indicated.

In the third sense of the word, viz., man's attitude to the vicissitudes of life, this is one of the main aims of Freemasonry. Who could hear that gem of the second W.T. and miss the lesson— to walk justly and uprightly, neither turning to the right nor the left from the paths of virtue; to steer the barque of life over the seas of passion without quitting the helm of rectitude; to make his passions and prejudices coincide With the just line of his conduct, and in all his pursuits to have eternity in view.

Enough has been said, even though briefly, to show that the philosophy of Freemasonry embraces something of all three meanings of the term. And though it would seem to play a less important role than either the history or the symbolism of the Craft, it will perhaps be seen that it is the very heart and soul of the Masonic system.

Freemasonry, with its regulation ritual and formal ceremonial, does not seem to present the same scope for the active display of genius that is to be met with in many other spheres of life, but all the same there are many other ways in which the man of busy temperament may find occasion for the display of his particular ability, provided he seizes the opportunity when it presents itself, and is really in earnest in looking around for it.

It is notorious that some men spend the greater part of their life professing a determination to make an impression in the world, and always craving for some special occasion for the display of the skill they believe themselves to possess; but the opportunity does not appear to pass their way, and they have to content themselves by recounting what they would do if they had the chance. While other men, with just the same scope for their abilities—and no more—make much of their opportunities, and rise to the eminence the other craves for. In fact, the one spends his life waiting for the opportunity, the other seems to make the opportunity for himself, and is credited with luck or special good fortune rather than what he really displays—energy.

There are many brethren of the present day who are continually expressing a desire to do something special for Freemasonry, and crave for the opportunity of distinguishing themselves on behalf of the Craft, but somehow or other they do not seem to be appreciated and they never rise beyond the ordinary level; ultimately severing their connection with their Lodge, either from disappointment or disgust at not being made much of. They appear to overlook the fact that there is always field for the display of Masonic energy open to them, in the form of work done for one or other of the charitable institutions of the Order, and we venture to think the field is not only an inexhaustible one, but is also one in which the most brilliant results may be achieved, and the one in which activity and energy is sure to make itself apparent. A member of a Lodge may be a most painstaking student of the ritual, and may serve through the several offices with credit, and pass through the Master's chair without a fault, and yet fail to make any particular impression in the Craft, or secure any special recognition for his Lodge; but the brother who takes up a stewardship for one of the charities; and devotes himself heart and soul to the work of that office, can hardly fail to secure a tangible return for his efforts, in the form of a handsome total on his list.

This is the opportunity waiting for every brother alike—the initiate or the P.M.—for there is no limit to the number of brethren who may act as steward, and, unfortunately, no apparent limit to the number of worthy applicants for the benefits that are offered; and we are convinced that activity in this direction would not only prove a worthy outlet for ambition, but would be the stepping-stone to higher things.

MASONIC COURTESY.

"Courtesy" has been defined as "one medium of exchange which is accepted at par by the best people of every country on the globe."

This is also the qualification required in every candidate for the Mastership of a Lodge and is reiterated at every Installation Meeting by the Installing Master when addressing the Master Elect on the various qualifications essential in every candidate for the Master's Chair—viz., "courteous in manners."

The meaning of courtesy is "having courtly, refined, or elegant manners; characterised by courtesy; affable; condescending; polite." Courtesy has a gracious charm, and the man who is courteous is gentlemanly and polite under all circumstances.

Sympathy and understanding are among the finest qualities of soul a man can possess, and therein lies the charm of courtesy. The courteous spirit is the very essence of Masonic teaching, and it is therefore not surprising that it should be one of the equal outstanding qualities required of a Brother on whom a Lodge confers the highest honour within its power to bestow. It is not required of a Brother so privileged that he shall be wealthy or famous, but it is required of him that he shall be "exemplary in conduct, courteous in manners, easy of address, and steady and firm in principle."

Wealth, success, and high social status sometimes make men churlish and intolerant, utterly void of sympathy and kindly feeling but these are not the qualities Masonry looks for in the candidate for the Master's Chair. "Courteous in manners" is the quality desiderated by Masonry. It claims that the Master shall possess a gentleness of manner, an unobtrusive sympathy and thoughtfulness for others—qualities that will help to smooth down any rough elements that may obtrude, soothe any vexations that may arise, and contribute in every possible way to the real happiness and success of the Lodge.

Courtesy comes from the heart. It is real goodness of soul. It is not something expressed by a certain inflection of the voice or by an affected smile. It is the hallmark of a gentleman, and a gentleman has been defined as "one who never inflicts pain. He has his eyes on his company; he is tender towards the bashful, gentle towards the distant, and merciful towards the absurd." Courtesy goes a long way in softening, the jars and healing the heartaches of the world. It leads the mind of the Craft to a deep and abiding appreciation of its essential unity, until Brethren come to feel that Freemasonry is a rock, wide enough to obliterate the meaner things of life, broaden endeavour, and high enough to create within us a spiritual conception of "those immortal mansions whence all goodness emanates."

There is much in the spirit of courtesy that Brethren may do, but there are some things vastly more important than others. A Brother may build a mansion, may spend enormous wealth in rearing its walls of marble and storing within it every element of adornment and beauty, but when the time comes for him to pass from this mortal life, he may have accomplished very little. Another Brother may never, build anything save a mansion of character, adorning it within and without With his, own personality, and when he passes from his earthly abode into the great Unseen, leaving nothing behind but atmosphere and influence; though here no longer in body, that pure atmosphere and gracious influence he left behind will continue to shape, mould and direct countless others through their course of life.—"Masonic Record."

RUAPEHU NOTES.

HAWKES BAY NOTES.

On 21st April The Services Lodge of H.B., No. 313, held its Anzac Commemoration Meeting in the Masonic Temple, Hastings, at which the W.M., W. Bro. G. Pell, presided over an attendance of about 75 Service members from all Lodges throughout the District. The Anzac Dedication was read by W. Bro. L. E. Vaughan; the Scripture Readings and Address were given by the Chaplain, Rev Bro. Button; and the solemn Act of Commemoration was conducted by the S.W., Bro. H. G. Apperley. After the service a very pleasant hour was spent in the refectory, where many old acquaintances were renewed and reminiscences exchanged.

The 37th Annual Convocation of Heretaunga R.A. Chapter, No. 38, was held at Hastings on 5th May. In the unavoidable absence of R.E. Comp. A. K. WELLINGTON NOTES.

On 16th April a large gathering of brethren assembled at Masterton hi welcome the Grand Master, M.W. Bro. E. J. Guinness, when he visited Lodge St. Matthew, No. 355, on the occasion of the Installation of Bro. J. H. Boustridge, S.W. The ceremony was conducted by R.W. Bro. F. F. Boustridge, P.D.G.M., brother of the new Master. It was an interesting experience for the brethren to witness an Installation conducted in the West Coast manner and compare it with the ceremony adopted in the Wellington District. The Wardens were invested by V.W. Bro. T. H. Dixon, P.G.D.C., and W. Bro. W. H. Saunders, P.Asst.G.D.C., and the other officers by W. Bro. C. J. Nix, P.G.S., and W. Bro. W. Cochrane, P.G.S.

R.W. Bro. C. N. Cathie, Prov.G.M., was accompanied by a goodly number of Grand Lodge Officers when he installed Bro. N. J. Grigg, S.W., as Master of Trentham Lodge, No. 262, on 21st April. In the refectory the toast of the Prov.G.M. and Officers of G.L. was proposed by W. Bro. G. S. Bates in his own inimitable style.

NELSON-MARLBOROUGH NOTES.

The Installation meeting of Lodge Waitohi, No. 111, Picton, was the occasion for a very large and representative gathering, when Bro. J. W. Sutherland was installed as W.M. by R.W. Bro. R. A. Craighead, Prov.G.M., and Bros. A. H. J. Jackson and J. M. Sterling were invested as Senior and Junior Warden respectively, and V.W. Bro. E. T. Burrough, G.Lec., was re-elected as Secretary.

One of the largest assemblies at an ordinary meeting marked the April meeting of Wairau Lodge, No. 42, Blenheim, when an excellent muster from both Lodges attended for the official visit of the sister Lodge, Marlborough Unanimity, No. 106. The Second Degree was worked by the visitors, and farewells were extended to a member of each Lodge—Bro. F. A. Harrison and Bro. A. C. Jennings—on the occasion of their departure to visit England. An early Wairau member, Bro. Les. Tunncliffe, was welcomed on a visit from Cambridge.

Browsing through old papers belonging to the Marlborough Lodge of Unanimity, No. 106, a brother engaged in research into the Lodge's history, with an eye on its not-so-far-distant centenary, came across some programmes of the 1903 Installation meeting. These were produced at refectory after the May meeting, which was P.Ms.' Night. The programmes, simple affairs of one folded sheet, were for the Installation of V.W. Bro. T. Kirby—Uncle Tom to everybody—who is a 50 years' Gold Star veteran. Naturally, he was prompted to reminisce, and his recollections of the early days and the struggle to keep going were the highlight of the evening. W. Bro. W. H. Gane, now of Wellington, presided for the occasion and worked an imitation. Several visitors were present and the P.Ms. had a large and appreciative audience.

Fifteen members of Lodge Motueka were warmly welcomed on the occasion of their official visit to Lodge Eckford, No. 334, Blenheim, early in May. There was a fine attendance. The visitors "Passed" two candidates, one from each Lodge.

Besides the regular meeting in April, when a Third Degree was conducted, Lodge Nelson. No. 288, paid an official visit to Lodge Havelock. In May the work of the regular meeting was a "Passing," and a visit was made to Lodge Murchison, when a Lodge Nelson candidate was "Raised."

A record for Waimea Lodge, No. 266, Nelson, and an event of note in any District, was the initiation of twin brothers at the April meeting. A further family note was the fact that their father was an interested and no doubt proud witness of the ceremony.

A double "Second" was the business of the April meeting of Lodge Victory, No. 40, Nelson. It was the final working of the retiring W.M. and set a high standard. An interesting occasion was "Past Masters' Night" in May, when an emergency meeting was held. W. Bro. K. M. Black, who was Master in 1931-32, presided, with his former officers to help him, and he had the pleasure of "Raising" two candidates, one of whom was his son.

At the May meeting of Golden Bay Lodge, No. 2194, E.C., Takaka, Southern Star Lodge, Nelson, paid a "call" and "Raised" a member of their own Lodge.

NORTH CANTERBURY NOTES.

W. Bro. E. W. Hillier, Southern Cross, No. 6, and his officers "Raised" a Brother to the Third Degree in May. It is always a pleasure to attend this Lodge, which prides itself on its hospitality. A good attendance witnessed some excellent work.

The ceremony of "Passing" was the work for the May meeting of Ashley Lodge, No. 28, when a good attendance witnessed a splendid working.

Ashley Lodge attended the Masters' and Past Masters' Lodge May meeting in force when W. Bro. L. D. J. Smith. W.M. of Ashley, read a paper on the Third Degree.

Kaikoura Lodge, No. 60, worked a Third Degree in May. W. Bro. McLoughlin and his officers inspired all present with the impressive rendering of the ritual.

Cheviot Lodge, No. 124, "Passed" a brother to the Second Degree in May. This Lodge is making excellent progress and makes visiting brethren very welcome.

The May meeting was domestic night at Mairaki, when discussions of importance to the welfare of the Lodge took place, and W. Bro. Bruce McIntosh gave some indication of his plans for the year. Ladies' Night also was held in May. A fine gathering of brethren and their ladies was held in the refectory, where W. Bro. W. J. Beckett had organised an enjoyable programme. Opportunity was taken to thank the ladies for their good work for the brethren during the year.

A Second Degree was the ritual work at Amuri, No. 184, in May. W. Bro. Maxwell gave an impressive rendering of the work. Ladies' Night was also observed in Amuri in May, when all present enjoyed a happy evening.

Tawera, No. 188, "Passed" a brother in May. W. Bro. Les. Farr has his team in good form and a splendid attendance witnessed a fine rendering of the ritual.

A candidate was initiated by the W.M. and officers of Acacia Lodge, No. 209, in May. W. Bro. Campbell and others taking part in the ceremony are to be congratulated on the standard of their work.

CHRISTCHURCH NOTES.

The half-yearly meeting of the Provincial G.L. of Canterbury was held on 28th April in the Masonic Hall, Timaru. The M.W. the Grand Master, M.W. Bro. E. J. Guinness. and a number of G.L. Officers attended this Communication. M.W. Bro. Guinness gave an inspiring address during the evening, and W. Bro. Hollander, P. Pres. Prov. B. of B., also contributed a splendid paper, entitled "Men of Good Will." Both addresses were well received by all present. The brethren were pleased to see R.W. Bro. F. N. Kerr. Prov.G.M., in attendance, as he has been unable to attend some of his Masonic duties of late owing to the serious illness of Mrs. Kerr. The evening was a most successful one and the lodgeroom was packed to capacity.

Original papers on the three degrees were given, namely: the First, by Bro. B. P. Ingley; the Second, by Bro. P. O. Minson; and the Third, by W. Bro. L. D. J. Smith. There was also a novel demonstration of "Proving."

OTAGO NOTES.

At the fourth regular meeting of Lodge St. Kilda, No. 362, the W.M. (W. Bro. A. N. Ayshford) and his officers "Passed" their first candidate (a brother from Lodge Oceanic, No. 154) to the F.C. Degree. The ceremony, which was witnessed by a good attendance of members and visitors, was conducted in a most impressive manner. The W.M. thanked W. Bro. E. Syrett, P.G.P., for a donation towards a fund for the purchase of a set of Working Tools.

The Research Lodge of Otago has welcomed Lodge St. Kilda as an associate Lodge. Advice has been received from Grand Lodge that the Lodge's By-laws had been approved by the Board of General Purposes, with one slight amendment.

A meeting of Principals, past and present, has been called for the purpose of forming committees and making preliminary arrangements for the next Annual Convocation of Grand R.A. Chapter, to be held in Dunedin in February next year.

One of the largest gatherings of R.A. Companions seen in Dunedin for some time greeted V.E. Comp. T. J. Tate at the April Convocation of Celtic Chapter, No. 42. Comp. Tate has been a frequent visitor to the sister Chapters, whose members showed their appreciation by attending Celtic Chapter in force. The ceremony of "Exaltation" was carried out by V.E. Comp. Adam Harris, of Otago Chapter, No. 7, and his officers.

V.E. Comp. T. J. Tate and the Companions of Celtic Chapter visited Maori Chapter, No. 28, at the beginning of May for the purpose of working a Royal Arch Degree.

W. Bro. J. H. Cumberbeach, W.M. of Lodge Haeremai, No. 155, presided over a large attendance on the occasion of the last meeting of his year. The election of officers for the ensuing year proved a lengthy proceeding, as there was keen competition for the minor offices and in some cases second and third ballots were necessary to secure an absolute majority, there being as many as six nominees for one office. Bro. A. R. Wardrop is the Master-elect. W. Bro. Cumberbeach had a busy year, with the loyal support of the brethren of his Lodge.

The position of the console of the Hammond organ at the Moray Place Temple has been a source of worry to the Masonic Hall Committee. For some time it was placed in the gallery, but Lodge organists requested that it be placed on the floor of the Temple so that they could see the whole ceremonial working of a degree, as well as effecting an improvement musically. The console was then placed on the floor and remained there for three or four years. For some inexplicable reason, unknown to the majority of the tenant Lodge Organists, it was restored to the gallery, which caused dissatisfaction amongst the Organists of several Lodges, and the majority refused to play the Hammond in that position. The tenant Lodges were then requested to express their opinion on the matter, and as the majority preferred the console removed to the floor of the Lodge, it has again been restored to that position. The Hall Committee has stated that the new arrangement will be permanent.

SOUTHLAND NOTES.

The outstanding meeting of recent months was the visit of the Grand Master, M.W. Bro. E. J. Guinness, to Lodge St. John, No. 94, on the 25th April. There was an excellent attendance of members and visitors,

A feature of this meeting was the presentation of a 50-year Jewel to M.W. Bro. T. M. Rankin. P. Pro G.M., for his outstanding work in the interests of Freemasonry over the past half century.

The quarterly meeting of the Southland Preceptory, held on 30th April, was attended by 40 Fratraes, under the presidency of Ven. Frater L. H. Jones. This was one of the largest meetings in the history of the Preceptory. Two members were received.

W. Bro. William Watson, P.Asst.G.D.C. and a P.M. of Lodge Southern Cross, No. 9, worked the ceremony of "Raising" at the May meeting in an impressive manner.

The Installation of Bro. A. Knight as W.M. of The Lodge of Remembrance, No. 318, was conducted on 28th April in the presence of a capacity attendance. R.W. Bro. Jas. Stobo, Prov.G.M., welcomed R.W. The 75th Anniversary of Lodge Aparima, No. 77 (Riverton) was held on 8th May in the presence of a record attendance of members and visitors. A short preliminary meeting was held in the Temple, with R.W. Bro. Jas. Stobo, Prov.G.M., and G.L. Officers in attendance. After the meeting, in the refectory a most enjoyable "ball" was held, when members and lady friends from all parts of the Province and further afield were present and participated in a memorable function.

The ceremony of Acknowledgment was conducted at the April convocation of Southern Cross R.A. Chapter, No. 3, by W.E.M. B. J. Perkins and his officers. R.E. Comp. Geo. McLeod. G.Supt., was in attendance and welcomed R.E. Comp. A. Scott, Depute G.Z., who was paying an official visit.

Principals, officers, and a number of Companions of Southern Cross R.A. Chapter, No. 3, paid a visit to Iwikatea, No. 33 (Balclutha), and worked the R.A. Degree.

Several members of the Lodge of Remembrance, No. 318, were present at the annual Installation of The Service Lodge (Dunedin) on Anzac Day to witness the Installation of Bro. M. Spence as W.M.

The Installation of Bro. J. Sutherland as Master of Lodge St. John, No. 94, was held on 17th May. W. Bro. J. N. McKinlay, who had been W.M. for the past 12 months, had a most successful year.

E. and P. Bro. J. C. Sefton, the newly-installed M.W.S. of Murihiku R.C. Chapter, No. 36, and his officers had a most enjoyable meeting on 30th May.
