KIRKPATRICK HOUSE

(was Kirkpatrick Masonic Institute)

We may have a new name but our object is unchanged. This is to provide a real home for daughters of Masons who through illness or other circumstances require a new home.

Kirkpatrick House is sited in four acres of attractive grounds in sunny Nelson and offers first class primary education at a nearby school followed by secondary education at Nelson College for Girls. Kirkpatrick House provides an atmosphere in which a girl can grow up with a healthy and intelligent outlook on life.

Full financial responsibility will be accepted and parents or guardians should ask the Lodge Secretary to contact Kirkpatrick House.

For further information write to:

The Virtue Of Conservatism

Here and there in the United States are small pockets of settlers whose style of speech has never changed from the Elizabethan: "Give me thy cloak, prithee", we are told, is a commonplace turn of phrase for them. It may be that their English is purer than ours in this age when philologists and grammarians consider that everything is going downhill.

Perhaps there are advantages in being out of the main stream. Conservatism can be given its head; innovation is unlikely to be popular; the traditional stream will probably remain undefiled.

There are disadvantages too. If the main stream changes course one finds oneself, instead of being an integral part of a massive whole, reduced to the dimensions of an insignificant trickle: lacking the support, the comfort and the discipline of the larger environment one may lose in strength as quickly as in importance.

The links which bind the Grand Lodge of New Zealand to the United Grand Lodge of England are the strongest that bind us to any sovereign body: it may be that they partake of the nature of apron strings which we have only imperfectly cast off; but it may be rather that we acknowledge gladly that respect is due from us to the Grand Lodge from which we primarily came; and that we look often to her wisdom and experience in matters of practice and precedent, for we feel that that is the safe and sensible thing to do.

We remain, in consequence, in very many ways like the United Grand Lodge. What she has discountenanced as innovation we find we have usually discountenanced too. Where, carefully and tentatively, she has made a small advance in a particular direction we find that the advance our own Grand Lodge has made is likely to have been no bigger, and is almost certain to have gone in the same direction.

Other Grand Lodges overseas have in some cases made quite considerable changes in their practices: in such matters as recognising some form of quasi-Masonry for women, even for boys and for girls; in meeting out of doors; in restoring such usages as street processions in regalia to attend the laying with Masonic honours of cornerstones, some of them of Masonic buildings and some of secular buildings.

As time goes by more and more of us travel. It is brought home to us that there is no sovereign overall Masonic body, that each Grand Lodge is autonomous, that there are only a few criteria that orthodox Grand Lodges apply to determine whether or not they should extend recognition to other bodies calling themselves Grand Lodges.

It is important that these few things be recognised as the important elements they are. Most of them are usually elicited by formal proof, but even in proof procedures there are differences and variations. In some jurisdictions the first and second degrees are reversed: in some they letter or halve what we give at length, and give at length what we have been taught to communicate more cautiously. In some cases it is not a matter of retiring with some wise and sympathetic old P.M., but of being put through one's paces by everyone who can lay claim to a coloured collar: it is searching, thorough and at times even embarrassing.

The pieces of information sought by the proving officer, however elicited or altered in order, are still important elements in our Masonry, and ought to be recognised as such. The essential necessity for a belief in a GAOTU and the absolute refusal to exact any statement of definition of such a G.A.; so that Jew and Christian, Parsee and Hindu can meet around the same altar and practise their common Masonry is another factor common to all recognised Grand Lodges; none of them will compromise on these points, because they are part of the central core of the Craft.

We probably cannot say literally that Freemasonry is very universally or evenly spread over the surface of today's trouble globe, nor that the sun is always at its meridian with respect to Freemasonry. What we can say is that when we leave New Zealand we ought to find it comparatively easy to find out in what company we can carry out our Masonic observances and in what company we can not: we can arm ourselves with certificates and due receipts and brush up the answers to the questions which are likely to be put to us: if we do these things we may have the incomparable pleasure of going to a strange town where we know no one, of entering a building where there are many men and finding ourselves welcomed as brothers, without reservation and with the utmost cordiality. It is a privilege that those who have exercised it have come to value very highly, and it provides one of the great arguments for the thoughtful Freemason to see not only that he is able to make himself known and to prove himself, but also that the Grand Lodge to which he adheres does not stray from the orthodox and the accepted.

Leaders And Critics

It is a curious thing, but true, that every man and woman who lifts his or her heart above the level of the crowd becomes a target for adverse criticism as well as praise. The fact appears in every group action from national affairs down to the smallest sewing circle. The effects of it will be found in the political arena, in professional, educational, scientific, religious, fraternal and commercial organisations. In all of these, people crave leadership, and yet some are always ready to criticise and condemn that leadership when it appears.

Leadership is a vital necessity and one of its penalties is prominence. The fact that in some isolated cases ambition for power or prominence dominates an individual does not nullify the greater fact that the majority endure the prominence in order to get something beneficial accomplished. Nor does it alter the fact that in most cases leadership and prominence involve sacrifice and interference with the leader's regular schedule of living.

Perhaps it is the certainty that sacrifice will be required and interference suffered that makes the finding of real leaders so difficult. But to that should be added the equal certainty they will be criticised, whoever they are. Great leaders, of course, anticipate criticism and are prepared to discount it. But even they at times are troubled by the frequent injustices and thoughtlessness of fault-finding.

It was Disraeli, one of England's greatest prime ministers, who said: "It is much easier to be critical than to be correct." At another time when he was being much annoyed he said: "You know who the critics are?—the men who have failed." And again, when disturbed by grumblings he said: "Little things affect little minds." Another great leader of his time who also was often abused, said: "Of all the cants which are canted in the canting world, though the cant of hypocrites may be the worst, the cant of criticism is the most tormenting."

CARLILE'S MANUAL OF FREEMASONRY

RICHARD CARLILE (1790-1843), a London printer and bookseller, was imprisoned for some of his publications (notably PAINE'S "The Age of Reason"). His most famous work was a three-volumed exposure of Freemasonry covering the three Craft degrees, the R.A. and K.T. degrees, and a miscellaneous selection including the Mark, Cryptic, and some of the "Intermediate Degrees" of the A. & A. Rite. Whilst not always accurate, this book shows good scholarship and is less abusive of the Order than most exposures.

Extra Instruction

The necessity that every Mason know and hand down to his successors the esoteric meanings of the work cannot be questioned. No instruction can be given, beyond what the ritual contains, during degree work. It behoves us therefore to use every opportunity to further enlighten new members by instruction over and above that contained in the ritual. The whole system being allegorical, the hidden meanings must be revealed and the symbols expanded beyond that which the ritual indicates. Let well-informed Brethren pass on by talks and lectures so that new members and seekers may not be left in the dark. The whole system of morality should be revealed by means of extra instruction.

The Lodge, Its Music And Its Organist

Part 1—The Ceremony

First of all let me refer you to an extract from our Ritual Book regarding the Conduct of Ceremonies (page 47) which reads: "Instrumental music is a desirable addition to our ceremonies, but not an essential part thereof. When the services of a skilful Brother are not available, it is better that our ceremonies be conducted without music than with music that falls below the accepted standard of execution." (end quote). This reference is to remind Masters of Lodges that as our ceremonies were originally designed to function without any musical accompaniment, should the odd occasion arise when no Organist is available, the evening's working will not be ruined. Nevertheless there can be no denying that the addition of suitable music will enhance the ceremony, and any steps that can be taken to provide suitable music should be worthy of note. The Master with the co-operation of his Preceptor, can prepare for such an emergency in a few simple ways.

The first step is to ensure that the Brethren, at least those aspiring to office and who, in consequence, should be attending the Lodges of Rehearsal, do know the words of the Odes which are to be sung. So many of us know the first and last lines and the S.M.I.B. only, and the rest of the words are unintelligible, particularly so to the Candidate. On the night of his Installation, the Master, when being presented with a copy of the bylaws of his Lodge, is strongly recommended to ensure that the Brethren of his Lodge are fully acquainted with the bylaws. It might well be a good thing were he also exhorted to make certain that his Brethren learn the words of the Odes that may be used during the ceremonies.

The second step is to ensure that you have a Brother (or preferably several Brethren) willing to lead the singing. Such singers are in every Lodge as has been so amply demonstrated by the membership of Choirs which have assembled for Annual Communication Meetings held in recent years. Only a handful are known soloists, the rest being ordinary members of their Lodges interested in leading the singing portion of the Installation Ceremony. These are the Brethren on whom you can rely to give a lead to the others. Just one such leader will give a tremendous impetus to the singing.

The third step is to arrange for a Brother to be at the organ to play the one note necessary to start off the singing. It is only because this essential leading note is missing that unaccompanied singing fails to go with a swing. Even experienced choirs require considerable training to start on the right note and in the right key without needing to hear that one leading or guiding note, so the Brethren of your Lodge must not be written off as "poor singers" or "not musical" or "just hopeless" because they are not able to do so. Indeed most Church Organists find it necessary to use a lead note for congregational singing. So all you require is a Brother to play that one important note at the appropriate time. This is not a difficult task. Even, and most unlikely if a Brother who reads music cannot be found, that is no drawback, as the note required for the start of the Ode can be marked on the organ in some way, either on the ivory key or on the wood surround. Only one stop needs to be used—a diapason is suggested as there is one of these on most organs—and of course the pedals operated.

With these three points mastered, there is no excuse for the omission of singing from our ceremonies, and with the words of the Odes memorised, then unaccompanied singing can be impressive. Without an Organist the ceremony will not have incidental music and this is a loss. But such a loss only tends to throw more responsibility upon the Deacons who play a most important part in creating and sustaining a dignified atmosphere to the movements within the Lodge room. A custom practised in some Lodges during the working of the Third degree is interesting and most effective too. During that part of the ceremony when an extract from the "Dead March" is usually played, the Brethren tap the floor with their feet in a suitable rhythm, keeping time with the slow processional march. As a substitute for the atmosphere created by the playing of such a march, this is most effective. It is certainly to be commended above a poor rendering by an inefficient Organist. It is also preferable to having the atmosphere of that crucial and dramatic part of the ceremony destroyed through the Organist having to illuminate his music.

To Masters, Wardens and Deacons of Lodges, it will not be out of place to remind you that Organists are Officers of the Lodge. As such they are entitled to your co-operation and also your courtesy. Acknowledging the fact that it is either nervousness or thoughtlessness which causes the offenders to be rude to the Organist, nevertheless whatever the cause, the result has the same irritating effect on a skilful music Brother. Far too frequently does a Master bring down the Gavel and stop the music dead, thus shattering any pleasant association the music had with that part of the ceremony. Whereas, had the Master been more skilful in his work, he would have realised that the Organist was timing his ending to coincide with the finish of the perambulation. A lot more understanding and agreement is required between the Organist and those whom he is endeavouring to assist. If your Organist is not sufficiently skilled in timing his endings to match those of the perambulations, then the Preceptor should request him to attend rehearsals so that these movements can be co-ordinated. Just as Organists must learn to control the length of the music being played, so the other Officers must learn to appreciate that a wait of two or three seconds to permit the music to be "closed off", is not ruinous to the ceremony. You can be sure that a short wait definitely does not have as disturbing an effect as that attained by a peremptory stopping of both music and perambulation with a loud bang of the gavel, which only emphasises the incident. Deacons, too, are prone to offend. Frequently their opening words are not heard because they are so keen to get on with their own part of the ceremony that they just cannot wait for the music to finish before starting to say their piece. Keep your Organist within due bounds by all means, but give him the consideration to which his office entitles him. He is just as entitled to be heard in full as are the officers who render the other parts of the ceremonies.

As regards music generally in the Lodge room and in the Refectory, some Districts appear to have suffered a greater decline than those in other parts of the country. Perhaps your own Lodge still carries out the practice of distributing cards with the words of the Odes printed thereon. A glance at those cards often reveals the glory of past years, when Odes for many parts of the ceremonies were regularly sung. It is to be regretted that the musical part of the ceremonies as now worked in some Lodges comprises only the singing of the "So Mote It Be", the "Let Not Honour and Truth" and the closing "Fidelity". What a loss the omission of appropriate Odes is to a ceremony. If your Lodge has a soloist amongst its members, why not use his talents to render some of the Odes? In that way, not only do you enhance the work of the evening, but you capture the interest of your Brother the soloist. Lodges overseas, and particularly some of those in U.S.A., make extensive use of Brethren for solos, duets, trios, quartettes and even small choirs, going so far as to have an invested office of Choirmaster. We really do not have any less musical talent today than, say, 25 years ago, so it is difficult to ascertain the real cause for the decline of the use of music in our present day ceremonies.

This decline has also affected the standard of our Refectory proceedings. Before the Second World War, there were many Lodges with their own orchestra or choir or concert party. This would be quite the exception today, more's the pity. In some Districts it has become the custom to allocate to the Junior Warden the complete charge of the Refectory. Where such is the case, we find that according to the disposition and or energy of that Officer, the Refectory proceedings are either a feast or a famine. Too often the latter as regards entertainment. It certainly seems there is room for some more stable way of controlling these "desirable but not essential" portions of our Lodge evenings. Do you realise that it could well have quite an effect on the attendance at Lodge? So many times, in so many Lodges have Organists been told that the ceremony in the Lodge room would have been "dull" without music. (Not always a fair comment.) So if you add a dull Refectory to an already music-less ceremony, you may be creating the very impression that the whole outfit is rather dull. The Master of the Lodge has been exhorted to "impress upon the Brethren the dignity and high value of Freemasonry".

From the defeatist attitude adopted towards this problem of providing some entertainment in the Refectory, it would appear that some aspiring Officers have not exactly appreciated the high value of the Craft. In the major cities there can be no excuse for failure to provide even one solitary item. Surely if the Officer responsible has no idea of how to go about this part of his duty, then he should bestir himself enough to delegate that duty to some other Brother or committee of Brethren to act for him. It is this indolence which is destroying the musical side of Lodge work, both ceremony and refectory. Of course there are difficulties for the Lodges in the remoter parts of the country. They have not the variety of talent upon which to call. For them a few ideas may be welcome.

Although Lodges of Research are established mainly for work connected with our ceremonies, nevertheless those in need of other Masonic assistance connected with lectures will not find an appeal to them fall on deaf ears. The use of a tape recorder is quite permissible in the Refectory, and some interesting talks have already been recorded by some of the Research Lodges. It is not beyond their means to record talks that would be of especial entertainment value to Masonic Brethren. We number amongst our ranks Brethren who have been to the Poles, travelled through darkest Africa, been behind the Iron Curtain, visited Buckingham Palace, the White House, the Holy Land or attended the recent celebrations of The United Grand Lodge of England. Such Brethren, and others too numerous to detail, are very willing to pass on their experiences in the interests of entertaining their fellow Masons. Perhaps this is a service the Research Lodges might be prepared to organise. It would solve many a most pressing problem for Lodges as well as extending the useful scope of their work. Also the holding of a "Record Playing" evening is always a success, particularly so if a really good 'gram is available for that purpose. A "Demonstration" evening attracts interest and you can be surprised at what will turn up in an "unusual hobbies" evening. These latter ideas have nothing to do with the musical side of our Masonic life, but it is well to remember that music is not the only means of entertaining the Brethren when in the Refectory. This being so effectively negatives the plea that because a first class musician is not readily available, then nothing can be done to entertain those present.

Now if your Lodge has an Organist or perhaps a Brother who "plays a bit" and would like to become an Organist, then make sure that a copy of this issue of the "Craftsman" reaches him. Even more important the next issue too, because that one will contain an article of particular interest to all Organists.

—E. J. SPEIR, P.G.Org.

Part 2—The Organist

In some respects the Organist can be pardoned if he displays slight symptoms of having an ego, because in most Lodges he is a "one of" officer, and hard to replace even on a temporary basis. It is probably the knowledge that he has no understudy which should, and in practice generally does, instill in an Organist a sense of extra responsibility towards his office. The fact is, he can make or mar a ceremony quite independently of the other Officers of the Lodge, no matter how efficient they may be in their ritual work. This is a sobering thought Brother Organists, and it behoves you, by the regularity and decorum of your own musical behaviour, to guard well the privileges of your office.

Let me first of all remind you that, apart from a processional march at the start and close of the Lodge and also the accompaniment of the Odes, almost all the rest of your music is "background" music. Background music should be conspicuous only by its absence, and to achieve this effect is an art which requires both concentration and practice. As a general rule, when there is a definite limit to the number of bars that can be played, it is unwise to commence playing at a place in the music where the tune is immediately recognisable. Much better to start so that it is the last two or three bars which establishes recognition of the piece being played. This is showmanship, but even so, the ceremony and the Organist's endeavours are enhanced by a judicious application of the art.

As an example let us take a perambulation from the W. to the pedestal in the E. In an average suburban Lodge room that movement would involve about 21 paces. As many Organists are unable to improvise their music, then the playing of extracts from suitable hymn tunes is quite an accepted practice. Using the hymn tune "Tallis Canon" as being suitable music, and assume that the Organist starts at the beginning of the piece. In such a case, before he has played many bars of the music, most of the Brethren will, consciously or otherwise, have the words of the hymn "Glory to The My God This Night", etc., running through their minds. At the end of 21 paces, which would be after seven bars of that particular tune, those who were following the words and tune would find themselves cut off in the middle of a phrase. That has an upsetting tendency and the background music has accomplished the very reverse of what was intended. It has unfavourably drawn attention to itself.

To avoid this unfortunate result, the Organist should start the required number of bars from the end of the hymn tune. In the case of "Tallis Canon" this would also be seven bars. As there is always some slight delay before the Deacons get the candidate mobile, in watching the start of the perambulation, it is unlikely that the Brethren will even notice that the music has started in the middle of a phrase. By the time the Deacons have the movement well in hand, the Brethren are realising the music is faintly familiar. By the time the perambulation is ending, the Brethren have recognised the tune, and such a co-ordinated finish makes all parties happy. That is an atmosphere which the Organist should always strive for in his playing of "background" or "incidental" music. There are so many ideas that can be given to Organists to intrigue, soothe, alert or even on occasion amuse the audience of Brethren, that it is not possible to include them in one short article.

There is one idea that should be considered by Organists who take their office seriously. This is to learn the "stop-start" movements in the various degrees so thoroughly that the Deacons can rely on the Organist to cover any errors they may make. By this is meant such parts of the ceremonies that have slight differences only in various degree workings. A typical example is the halting of the candidate in the NW to permit attention to the fact of being properly prepared. The halt in the second degree being on a different circuit to the former degree, tends to confuse the Deacons. If the music is obviously ending, then the Deacons would realise they must halt too; if the music shows no indication of stopping, they know to continue.

After many years of Masonic playing, I can state positively that this is a very worth-while goal at which to aim. Many is the time I have been gratified when Officers have come to me after a ceremony and expressed their thanks for my having covered up—or even prevented—a potential error. The Organist is one of the few in the Lodge Room who can have the ritual book open during the ceremony, and he should use that opportunity to help improve the standard of work of the Lodge. All this of course with the consent of the Lodge Preceptor, but most of those harrassed Officers will agree that it is better to have such a service and not require it, than to need it and not have it available. Some Lodges use their Organist as the official "prompt" for all Officers, and this has much to commend it too, for the Organist must follow all parts of the ceremony carefully to establish his own many cues.

Tracing Boards available on order from Regalia House

Although in the ritual of the Craft degrees the Organist has little opportunity to play for any worthwhile period, should he seek advancement to the degree of The Holy Royal Arch, or be invited to join any of the Christian Orders, then his musical abilities are given a far more liberal reign. For the purposes of this article, though, we will not proceed any further than the degrees of Craft Masonry. In the E.A. degree in particular, the music played for the perambulations is of considerable importance to the candidate. Remember he is, at first, somewhat handicapped and must rely heavily on his conductor. If the music played is given a slow, steady but definite beat, the Deacons will find it much easier to control the movements of the candidates. The rhythm seems to give confidence. Much better not to play at all than to play out of time with those doing the perambulation. The Organist can and should facilitate the work by imposing his will as regards the speed and start-stop parts of the movements. As the Organist of the Lodge you are "the Leader of the Band", and whoever heard of a Bandmaster who waited until his Band had chosen the rhythm and speed which it wished to play before wielding his baton to conduct. Remember, you set the pace: those who are doing the perambulations will be relieved to follow your lead. Much the same applies to the music for the other ceremonies, except that, at a certain part in the MM degree, the Organist will be handicapped because he should be unable to read his music. But why spoil the effect of this dramatic part of the ceremony by requiring illumination? The other Officers must memorise their parts, and there is no excuse for the Organist not to do the same for the music required at this crucial part of that ceremony. How fortunate is Brother Organist compared with his other Officers. They have something different to say, and from memory, in each degree. The Organist can have both his ritual and music book open for all but one short period in the MM degree. Surely it is not asking too much of you to learn to play the Ode (if sung in your Lodge) and the solemn processional march without requiring to have a light shining on your music. You can learn to play that small part from memory, and by protesting, you are only making excuses for your own indolence and lack of will-power. It is a goal at which every Organist should aim, and be assured your Lodge will appreciate your success in this field.

Now a few words about the Odes to be sung. Again remember that you lead the Brethren, not the reverse. Sometimes it is quite hard work, especially at an Installation Meeting, dragging the singing along. But you are there to lead that singing, so please do it. If necessary, try practising the Odes using a metronome so that you thoroughly indoctrinate yourself with the speed at which the tunes should be played. Much better a little too fast than far too slow. The importance of playing a "lead" note for starting has been emphasised in the earlier paper, it is a must where you have singers of indifferent musical ability.

Finally we reach the Refectory where usually the Organist now becomes the accompanist. This article can do nothing that will ease the burden of accompanying the soloist, at sight, except to offer mutual sympathy. Sooner or later we all get caught with the apparently simple piece in (say) four/four time and in naturals, until you turn the page and discover the rhythm is now nine/eight with the key signature five sharps. Just be careful that your remarks are not heard above the singer. The music for the toasts, if musical honours are the custom in your Lodge, is very much your concern. The first toast, "The Loyal Toast—The Queen and The Craft", should always be preceded by the singing of the National Anthem. This is the only toast where the musical honour is sung before the toast is drunk. For all other toasts, the toast is first honoured by drinking and then the musical honour follows. Also, by request of Her Majesty the Queen, the National Anthem should be bright music and not sung slowly like a solemn dirge. The next toast should be "M.W. The Grand Master" and does not necessarily require honours unless the Grand Master is actually in attendance. Lodges are at liberty to select suitable honours for that toast, and if your Lodge is accustomed to giving Refectory Fires, then the correct honour is three times 11. Where musical honours are the normal custom of the Refectory, why depart from that custom? Truly it is a sorry sight to see Brethren floundering with the three times 11 Fire, not really having the slightest idea of what they are supposed to be doing. Why not sing one verse of the New Zealand National Hymn, "God of Nations at Thy Feet", etc.? It is most appropriate, being the highest local honour we can offer. The only answer that can be given to any suggestion that the Brethren may not know the words is simply "shame on them". The Lodge can easily attend to that deficiency. However, it is also appropriate to use the musical honour, "Join All in Harmony", etc. Never use "Worthy Freemasons All" or "Prosper the Man", etc. for that toast or for any other toast which is directed to one person alone; the wording is unsuitable.

Most toasts present no difficulty in selection of musical honours, but if in doubt, the "Join All in Harmony" will always be acceptable. Such music as "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" is not acceptable during a Refectory held on a normal Lodge evening, although it is quite suitable for social functions such as a ladies' night. A reference to the vexed question of what music is permissible when the Lodge is in mourning by direction of Grand Lodge. For the ceremony in the Lodge room itself, there is no need to depart from your usual practices. In the Refectory, the only permissible music is the National Anthem. If your Lodge custom is to sing the Grace, then on such an occasion it is preferable to have the Chaplain recite it.

Finally, Brother Organists, you should all adopt the Scout motto of "Be Prepared". Both in the Lodge room and in the Refectory, your fingers should never be far away from the keyboard, but always near enough for a prompt start, be it a perambulation or a toast. Your performance at the keyboard is all important, and in an unobtrusive manner you can have considerable influence over the activities of your Lodge.

A Rich Inheritance

Freemasonry has its roots in the distant past. Its teachings and ideals are wholly ethical, educational and spiritual, which through the ages have been consolidated into a system of idealogy and a way of life which is one of the richest inheritances of the human race, because its influence flows through the life and habits of all men of goodwill.

This idea is carved into the granite over the entrance to the House of the Temple in Washington:
 "Freemasonry builds its temples in the hearts of men and among nations."

The basic concept of Freemasonry is that we are living in a spiritual universe over which the Great Architect presides, whom we should worship and adore. The next most important concept of our Fraternity is the dignity of the individual, because we were created in God's image, and have something of His divinity in us.

We therefore believe that men have great capability for improvement and progress if they can live in an atmosphere of freedom to think, to plan and to co-operate for their mutual benefit.

Freedom being a prerequisite to human progress, Masons have always been in the front of those who have advocated and fought for the establishment of governments which would protect their citizens in the exercise of their God-given liberties, live their own lives and carve their destinies as best serves them and their talent, being mindful of the equivalent rights of their neighbours.

As we Masons of this generation are honouring those who have kept the faith alive, may we so live and act in our day and time that our descendants may likewise have occasion to praise and honour us for our devotion and partiotism which aided in bringing them peace and happiness.

AUCKLAND

MASONIC ALMONERS' ASSOCIATION, AUCKLAND DISTRICT AGED MASONS' CHRISTMAS PARTY

Blue sky and sunshine outside, smiling faces in the refectory, St. Benedicts Street, have become the rule for this annual function and 4th December this year was no exception. Judging from the early hour at which the 300 guests began to arrive for the luncheon, it seemed that many could not eat breakfast for fear of being late.

The Association Chairman, W. Bro. G. F. Betham, P.G.B.B., presided and called on the Chaplain, Rt. W. Bro. John Dick, P.G.W., to ask a blessing. Special guests included His Worship the Mayor, Bro. Dr R. G. McElroy, the Grand Master, Most W. Bro. John A. Redwood and Mrs Redwood, Past Grand Master, Most W. Bro. S. Hawker and Mrs Hawker, the Provincial Grand Master, Rt. W. Bro. Leslie A. Lincoln and Mrs Lincoln, V.W. Bro. Derek A. Thorburn, President of the Board of General Purposes, V.W. Bro. Arthur R. White, President of the Board of Benevolence, Rt. W. Bro. J. G. Erne Adams, District Grand Master, Grand Lodge of Scotland, and Rt. W. Bro. R. F. Newton, Grand Secretary, Grand Lodge of England. An apology was received from the Provincial Grand Master, Grand Lodge of Ireland.

The Grand Master paid special tribute to the Association's Patron, Most W. Bro. Wilfrid W. Wright and congratulated him on being appointed the first Grand Almoner. Short addresses were also delivered by His Worship the Mayor, by Most W. Bro. Hawker, P.G.M., and by Rt. W. Bro. Lincoln, Provl. G.M.

Full justice was done to an attractive lunch prepared by a willing band of ladies who had been busy from a very early hour. The guests then settled down to enjoy a bright and varied musical programme arranged by W. Bro. Eric J. Speir, Grand Organist. The action of the artists in giving freely of their time to entertain the "old hands" is warmly appreciated.

The outsized Christmas cake, perfect inside and out, was again this year made and donated by Mrs Farmer, wife of Bro. Farmer. The ceremony of cutting was carried out by the oldest Mason present, W. Bro. John Cowley, Past Grand Organist, of the Ara Lodge No. 1, aged 94.

A farewell presentation on behalf of the Almoners was made to Mrs George Archer by Most W. Bro. Wilfrid W. Wright, Past Pro. G.M., Patron of the Association. Bro. George Archer retires shortly from the position of Custodian of the Masonic Building. Most W. Bro. Wright spoke of the untiring assistance rendered over the years by Bro. and Mrs Archer to the Almoners, particularly in the extensive preparations for the annual Christmas luncheon to aged Masons. In returning thanks on behalf of his wife, Bro. Archer assured the gathering that the Almoners had not seen the last of "The Archers".

Bro. Chairman expressed thanks to all who had assisted in making the function such a success. Proceedings closed with "Auld Lang Syne" and a benediction pronounced by Rt. W. Bro. Dick.

CANTERBURY

The year 1967 is now passed and we look back with pleasure on the work that has been carried out by the Provincial Grand Lodge of Canterbury Almoners' Association with the culmination of Christmas parties for the aged and infirm Brethren, both in Timaru and Christchurch.

The party at Timaru was held in the Refectory of the Masonic Hall, Bank Street, on Saturday, November 11, 1967. W. Bro. S. A. Jordan, our South Canterbury representative was responsible for arranging this function and among those present were M.W. Bro. J. S. Hawker, P.G.M., Rt. W. Bro. J. W. Vivian, Prov. G.M., V.W. Bro. W. G. King, G.C., W. Bro. J. M. Forbes, Pray. G.A., W. Bro. W. A. Glading, P. Prov. G.A., the Association's treasurer, and Bro. B. Carpinter, the retiring president of the Association. The assembled Brethren were addressed by M.W. Bro. Hawker, Rt. W. Bro. Vivian and Bro. Carpinter, all expressing their pleasure of being present. The Association is most grateful to all who entertained the gathering and helped at the tables.

On Saturday afternoon of December 9th the party was held for the Christchurch Brethren in the Refectory, Masonic Hall, Gloucester Street, and a record attendance of over 200 were present. The proceedings were opened by M.W. Bro. A. H. Cavell, P.G.M., who said "that he always looked forward to the party and to meeting old friends he has made over the years. He was very pleased to see such a large gathering and hoped that they would have an enjoyable time." The Association's chairman, W. Bro. D. E. Wood, P. Prov. G.A., then asked the newly appointed president, W. Bro. Leslie Mably, P. Prov. G.A., to address the Brethren.

It was very pleasing to see such a large number of Grand Lodge and District Lodge Officers among us, which included, apart from M.W. Bro. Cavell, M.W. Bro. J. S. Hawker, P.G.M., Rt. W. Bro. Alan Fisher, P. Dep. G.M., Rt. W. Bro. J. W. Vivian, P.G.M., V.W. Bro. I Tie, P. Asst. P.G.M., Rt. W. Bro. D. A. Munro, D.G.M., Rt. W. Bro. Dr G. Jobberns, P.D.G.M., W. Bro. J. Wallace, P.D.G.S., and W. Bro. J. Kirk, our Mid Canterbury representative.

Rt. W. Bro. Vivian also addressed the Brethren and thanked the Association for the work they are doing, not only in the Canterbury District but also further afield. He hoped that the assembled Brethren would have a very pleasant time and was pleased to see such a large gathering.

W. Bro. Trevor Ritchie who acted as M.C. announced the first item on the programme, a banjo duet by Anita Reeves and Alan Asquith accompanied on the piano by Bro. Fred Vincent. Among the numbers played was an Old Time Medley and the Brethren were asked to join in the choruses and must have brought back memories to those present. W. Bro. Ritchie apart from being the M.C. sang some very fine numbers and was accompanied by Ivor Weir (a blind pianist who lost his sight in 1935 due to the first World War). Ivor was also interviewed by Bro. Ritchie and gave some very interesting experiences that he had both in America and England meeting well known artists. At the conclusion of the interview some very nice vocal duets were given by Bro. Ritchie and Ivor, the latter playing the accompaniment. This item brought loud applause and finally some further banjo duets to complete the entertainment. It was unanimously agreed that it was the best to date.

After Grace had been said by M.W. Bro. Hawker, tea was served, at the conclusion of which many Brethren left the tables and visited Brethren in other parts of the hall and chatted about old times, etc. While the tea was in progress Bro. Vincent played several numbers on the piano. Our thanks to him and to the other entertainers.

About 4 p.m. Brethren were ready to leave and those Brethren who had to be taken hack to their homes were well looked after by the Brethren who had cars and our thanks go to them. It was nice to see two Brethren from as far away as Temuka—one being the Secretary of the Winchester Lodge, W. Bro. Cecil G. Ellis.

Our grateful thanks to all those ladies and Brethren who helped with the tables and in the kitchen. To Bro. J. O. Taylor for his help to the Association in supplying pot plants for the stage each year and lastly to Bro. Arthur Wilson, the Masonic Hall caretaker and his wife for their untiring efforts in helping with the Christmas parties each year and as they will be retiring in March next, their services will be greatly missed and our Association wish them good health and every happiness for the future.

A MASONIC FAMILY AFFAIR

The November meeting of Cheviot Lodge was quite unique and the Past Masters gave a very fine rendering of the 3rd Degree. It was unique in this respect there being several family connections. First in the early part Bros. Robert and Donald Sloss, two Brothers were presented with their M.M.s Certificates. Then after the P.M.s took over, we had Wor. Bro. M. F. A. Childs in the chair, his Father, V.W. Bro. F. D. C. Childs as S.D. and his Uncle, Wor. Bro. P. F. Childs as J.W., then we had Wor. Bro. A. Williamson as D.C. and his son as J.D., and then Wor. Bro. Wade as Organist with his son-in-law, Bro. Stewart as Candidate.

SOUTHLAND

The Companions of Murihiku Rose Croix Chapter, No. 36, who attended the recent (Christmas) meeting were favoured by the attendance of V. Ill. Bro. A. C. Ford, S.B.I.G. (N.Z. South) and V. Ill. Bro. J. W. Drennan, P.S.G.I.G., together with the M.W.S. Officers and members of the Sphinx Chapter, No. 23, Dunedin to whom was entrusted the ceremonial work of perfecting a candidate for the host Chapter.

It would be no exaggeration to say that a better meeting could not have been held elsewhere. The exemplification of the degree of perfection by the visiting M.W.S. and members was simply outstanding and was enjoyed by participants and spectators. Altogether there were 80 members in attendance which included the M.W.S. and some members of Eastern Southland Chapter, No. 119.

Rose Croix Eagles and Stars in stock at Regalia House

In accordance with usual custom the refectory was lavishly decorated with red roses and it could easily be seen that a great deal of work had been put into the centre piece, a huge red cross of roses edged with ferns. Visitors from as far away as Christchurch were in attendance and joined in with the Christmas celebrations of the Chapter which have become so well and favourably known throughout the South Island in particular. Greetings were exchanged, carol singing was indulged in and a banquet worthy of the occasion was provided by our stewards. It was truly a meeting that will be long remembered by all who were fortunate to be able to attend.

Rt. W. Bro. J. H. Buckingham, P.G.M., Southland, made a couple of official visits to lodges in his province just prior to the Christmas vacation and the attendance of his G.L. Officers was most encouraging, particularly as it was so near the commencement of the holidays and so many were extremely busy at that time. Nevertheless, with the same loyalty as displayed throughout the year, they turned out in large numbers which drew forth from the Prov. G.M. a few words of well deserved praise when he was addressing brethren at the Christmas meeting of Lodge St. John, No. 94. And what an enjoyable evening that proved to be. The ceremonial work was in the hands of the P.M.'s of the lodge and W. Bro. John Watson, who was assisted by an excellent team, well chosen for their respective portions of the ceremony.

The usual "haggis" was a feature of the refectory proceedings when, after being piped in, as is understood to be the usual custom, was addressed by W. Bro. John Forrester, a "Scot" through and through who was well accustomed to the task, speaking in a language only a "Scot" could understand.

It was another great night for Southland Freemasons who attended from afar and in large numbers. They returned to their respective homes vowing that they would be back again next year. The other official visit of the P.G.M. was to the Lodge of Remembrance, No. 318, when the attendance was good and the evening most enjoyable.

There is much evidence of increasing attendances at lodge meetings in the Southland District of late which is a most encouraging factor in the life of lodges in general, including R.A. Chapter, Cryptic Councils, Knight Templars, and Princes Rose Croix Chapters. The recent meeting of the Southern Cross R.A. Chapter was well attended, closely followed by an installation meeting of the Knight Templars which was also favoured with an encouraging increase in attendance of members. Then there was a recent meeting of the Secret Monitors which was exceptionally well attended. On this occasion the ladies accompanied their husbands and while the members were in secret conclave the ladies were entertained in the nearby Senior Citizens' Centre, recently built for the senior citizens of Southland. The ladies were well pleased to be allowed to inspect the building and were very favourably impressed with what they saw. It is the most modern and probably the best of its kind in New Zealand, having only been completed several months. Every aid for elderly people has been included in the construction of the building and already a goodly number of Freemasons and their wives are enjoying membership, which is open to all persons who are residents of Southland and have attained the age of 60 years. Being so close to the Masonic Lodge it is certainly a great asset so far as lodge members are concerned. On the other hand it is equally as close to the Basilica. As good citizens should, we all join in together.
